

The Floyd Family History

The Floyd's are of Welsh origin. They came to America around the year 1675. They originally settled in Virginia with a branch of Floyds settling in New York on Long Island. Earliest known in America were three brothers, William, Charles, and Fredrick, who founded the Floyd family of Accomack County, Virginia. The Va. line grew very large and widespread with many interests.

They became established in the Pee Dee region of South Carolina about 1754, being one of several good Va. clans offered free land grants to bring down settlers and fill up the backcountry to off-set the growing Indian danger and the expanding number of slaves on the coastal plantations. Later some of the South Carolina family moved to North Carolina. At least two of the Floyds were governors of Virginia. They have produced surgeons, preachers, farmers, politicians, statesmen, lawyers, and public servants. They held every rank from private to general in the Civil War.

Once in South Carolina they settled in the Georgetown District in the eastern part of the state bordering the North Carolina line. In later years Georgetown District would be divided into counties, namely Horry and Marion. Most of our kinsmen lived in Horry County, later moving over into Marion and a place called Floydsville, named for the Floyds that settled there. Later the name of Floydsville would be changed to Nichols as it is known in present day. They also lived in and owned land in Reaves Township, which adjoined Nichols.

Thomas Coatsworth Floyd, my great grandfather, lived on an 835 acre plantation on the northern side of Nichols. The 835 acres was a grant from the State of South Carolina in 1860 from then governor Francis Pickens. T. C. was born May 18th, 1824 in Horry Co. My great grandmother was Catherine Long, daughter of Gabriel and Catherine Jenrette Long of Brunswick County, North Carolina. She was born Aug. 22, 1840 in Brunswick Co. I have been told that T. C. went to the ocean and attended church while there and met Catherine. He returned home and went back to the ocean the next week and got Catherine on his mule and brought her back home with him and they were married. Nine children were born to this couple:

	Born	Died
Samuel Gabriel	1-20-1860	6-05-1933
Thomas Jefferson	3-19-1863	N.A.
Harmon Luther	8-03-1866	9-05-1955
Catherine Anneliza	8-07-1868	3-26-1927
Elias Clayton	2-29-1870	7-26-1950
Hattie Walters	3-17-1873	8-21-1966
William Pinckney	2-03-1877	7-06-1933
Mary Magnolia	4-10-1879	7-20-1881
Blanche Elizabeth	9-25-1881	7-06-1955

These children, with the exception of Granddaddy Floyd, all settled on the plantation or in the nearby towns and countryside. T. C. & Catherine farmed the land and raised horses. Long before he died he divided the land with some of his children. Our Granddaddy never received any inheritance of any kind. This is very sad because there was plenty for all. The Floyds were prominent and quite wealthy people. While in Nichols in Nov. of 1989 I tried to find out why Granddaddy left and came down to Georgia. Of all the people I questioned none had any idea of the reason.

Thomas Coatsworth's father was Samuel Floyd, Sr. of Horry Co. and his mother was Sarah A. (last name not known). Samuel and Sarah's children were: Ann, Thomas Coatsworth, Susan, Samuel Jr., Harmon, Daniel, Charles, and Frances. One of the girls was called Ava or Avy by her father because I have documentation of this fact. Samuel's father was ~~Samuel~~ Floyd of Horry County. I don't know what his mother's name was.

T. C. died Feb. 10, 1912 and Catherine died March 24, 1913. He was 88 years old and she was 73. Both are buried in the Floyd A cemetery, a private family cemetery on the old Floyd plantation. My husband, Charles, and I visited this cemetery in Nov. 1989. It has a chain link fence and is fairly well kept. It is the middle of pasture on a grassy knoll. This cemetery was primarily fixed by Donna Lou Floyd Strange, Aunt Hattie's daughter. I have been told that Aunt Hattie made her promise she would look after and see to the upkeep. Samuel G. and wife Donnie Lee Scott Floyd are buried here also. The twins, Earl and Pearl, of Thomas Jefferson's are buried here. Clayton Floyd's wife Ella was buried here and when Clayton died they moved Ella's body to the Riverside Cemetery in Nichols where he is buried.

T. C.'s brother Harmon had a plantation on the northwest edge of Nichols. Charles and I visited this cemetery also with the help of Burnie and Mamie Floyd. They were very gracious to us when we visited them. Burnie reminds me very much of my Daddy, you can definitely tell they are and were Floyds. The name of this cemetery is the Floyd B and is also private. I was very disturbed by the condition of this cemetery. Had Burnie and Mamie not been with us we never would have found it. It is in a cow pasture overgrown with high grasses. There is no fence and some of the tombstones broken, some have fallen over and some are completely covered by grass. I fear that very soon this will be a forgotten place. T. C. and Catherine's daughter Mary Magnolia "Maggie" is buried here. She died when she was 2 years old. Harmon and Adah Floyd are buried here too, as some other members of their family. In all there are 14 graves in this cemetery. I surmise that the reason Maggie is buried here was that the T. C. Floyd cemetery didn't exist when she died, being the first of their children to pass away.

I'll try and tell a little of each child and his family beginning with the oldest Samuel Gabriel, named for T. C.'s father and for Catherine's father. Sam, as he was called, married Donnie Lee Scott and they lived on the plantation with his parents and farmed. This couple was childless and when William Pinckney Floyd's wife Mellie Mincey died in childbirth he gave the baby, Mattie Lou, to them. Sam died intestate on June 5, 1933. His land consisting of 160 acres was inherited by his wife and child. Because there was no will Sam's sister Blanche filed a lawsuit against Donnie and Mattie Lou claiming Mattie Lou had never been legally adopted. This suit was filed in the Marion County courts on Nov. 15, 1938. Aunt Hattie also participated in this action according to a copy of a letter that Aunt Onnie Belle gave me that was written to Granddaddy Floyd by Aunt Blanche. Blanche eventually lost the suit and later on Donnie Lee and Mattie Lou sold the land to J. C. and C. R. Hayes for the sum of $2,000. Years later in 1950 Clayton's son, Jessie would buy back this land. Mattie Lou now resides in Whitesville, N. C.

Thomas Jefferson (Jeff) lived in the area but am uncertain exactly where. He worked for the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad. I have information on two wives, one Sallie Parrish and the other one Dolly Demp. It's possible he was married twice. His children were Pauline, Thomas, Willie, Mattie Lee (called Mattie Jeff) and the deceased twins, Earl and Pearl. I have been unable to determine where Jeff is buried.

Catherine Anneliza (Kate) married Quincey D. Cribbs and they lived in Marietta, N. C. They had four children: Justin, Lawrence, Frostee, and Mamie. Frostee married a Harrelson and is deceased. The other children I have no information on. Buried in Powell Cem.

Elias Clayton (Clayton) lived on the Floyd plantation. He married Ella Parker and they had eight children: Burnie, Boyd (who had just passed away on Nov. 12, 1989 shortly before our visit), Jessie, Bishop, Jean, Bessie, Evelyn, and Elise. Burnie, Evelyn, and Elise are still living at this writing. Burnie lives three or four miles NW of Nichols in Dillon County. I believe Evelyn and Elise live in Myrtle Beach. Clayton and Ella lived on their part of the old plantation until they moved into Nichols, buying a tract of land and a home and he bought a store and operated it until it was taken over by his son, Burnie. Jessie's daughter Dot has been very instrumental in most of the information I have on the Floyd family and I will forevermore be in her gratitude. Without Dot I would have been lost because she had access to the old deeds and lives in the heartland of the Floyd family. Dot now lives in the Clayton Floyd home in Nichols. She is married to Orten Grainger and they have two daughters Cheri and Nancy. On our trip to S. C. we dropped in on Dot unexpectedly and she treated us as if we had known each other all of our lives. We met Dot's mother Esther Soles Floyd and she too was very gracious to us and absolutely insisted we spend the night with her but we declined and went back into Florence and spent the night. Clayton eventually bought some of the brothers part of the Floyd land. His son Jessie eventually gained the major portion of the old plantation. It is interesting learning how he was able to acquire some of this land, I would call it wheeling and dealing. Jessie was very sharp and something of a character. Dot said she wished to share this story about her father with me and this is the story: Jessie Harmon Floyd (8-12-1909 1-24-1959) was well-known, very well thought of and liked by many. Jessie was shot on Friday night, Jan. 23, 1959. The events leading up to the shooting as told to me by Dot. Jessie had been going with this woman for a long time. Friday night he came upon her and a man at a local drive-in. Jessie confronted her and the man and they argued and the man and woman left and Jessie followed. Somewhere in the nearby countryside at an old barn gunshots were exchanged and Jessie was wounded. The man left and the woman drove Jessie to the hospital in Dillon, S. C. although Jessie was begging to go to the hospital in Mullins but it was too far away. The hospital, St. Eugene's was run by the nuns. Before surgery Jessie was questioned by the law but he refused to tell any details of the shooting. His wife Esther, daughter Dorothy Mae (Dot) and a host of friends were at the hospital. He was in surgery most of the night but died on the operating table. Jessie died Jan. 24, 1959 and is buried in Riverside Cemetery in Nichols. Esther lives in their old homeplace in Nichols. She has two daughters, Dot and Grace Small of Raleigh. Esther owns most of the old Floyd plantation. Clayton and Ella P. Floyd are buried in Riverside Cemetery in Nichols.

Hattie Walters (Hattie) married John Ayers and lived on the old plantation. John was also a farmer and his family owned land too. They had one daughter, Donna Lou Ayers. Aunt Hattie is the only sibling of Granddaddy Floyd's that I can remember. She came to visit several times and I remember going to see her when she lived in Columbia, S. C. with Donnie. Donnie (as Donna Lou was called) married Harold Strange and they lived in Columbia. They had two children, Betty and Harold Jr. (Buddy). Betty lives in Alabama and Buddy lives in Maryland. After John died Aunt Hattie lived with Harold and Donnie. She passed away on Aug. 21, 1966 and is buried in Elmwood Cemetery in Columbia. Donnie still resides in Columbia and told me she would like to be remembered to the family and hear from us. Her address: Donna L. Strange, P. O. Box 212154, Columbia, S. C. 29221 and her street address is 1103 Cloister Place. Tel. 803-772-2308.

William Pinckney (Pink) married Mellie Mincey. He owned a part of the plantation but later sold it to Sam. He and Mellie lived in Marietta, N. C. just across the line. They had six children: Minnie, Gladys, Robert Pinckney, Ronnie, Connie, and Mattie Lou (she was raised by Sam and Donnie Floyd). Pink is buried in the Powell Cemetery. Gladys Floyd Crutchfield lives in Fairmont, N. C. Mattie Lou Floyd Ashley lives in Whitesville, N. C. Gladys has no children. Mattie Lou has three: Joann Cooper and Shirley Bennett, both of Raleigh, N. C. and a son, Bill Ashley.

Harmon Luthur (Lute), my granddaddy, was born in Marion Co. S. C. For some unknown reason he left his home in S. C. and came to Irwin County, Ga. Here he met and married Lucinda Boykin, born March 28, 1878, and died March 10, 1937. She was the daughter of John D. and Julianne Luke Boykin of Irwin County, Ga. Later they moved to Berrien County where Granddaddy farmed for J. Henry Gaskins, a large landowner. Granddaddy never had any desire to own his own farm. Mama said Daddy had begged him to buy a farm but he said he didn't want to own land. He was an excellent farmer which must account for my Daddy's talent at being such a good farmer. I remember Granddaddy as a white-haired, stoop-shouldered man that smoked a crooked pipe and smoked George Washington tobacco. I must say it was some aroma that the pipe gave off. He was known to have a quick temper and did not mind whipping his grandchildren. I'm happy to say that I never came under his wrath. I guess I was too young or just too good (laugh). My cousin, Heywood Giddens, told of a time when he was staying with Granddaddy and he joined the Navy unbeknownst to Granddaddy. Heywood said they were picking up potatoes and Granddaddy said something about working tomorrow and Heywood informed him he wasn't because he was going to the Navy. Without a word he jumped on him and they wrestled around the tater patch until Granddaddy gave out. Elmer Rogers tells of a time when he and cousin Marie Griner went to the cow barn and something spooked the cows, Granddaddy thought it was them and proceeded to whip Marie and Elmer climbed up a pine tree and stayed until his brother Sam came that night and they walked the railroad tracks back to Valdosta.

Granddaddy had little patience and Mama told me of a time when Daddy came home with the car and was going to put it under the shelter and Granddaddy said no he would do it and promptly ran through the back end of the shed. Knowing Daddy I bet he laughed and laughed (not where Granddaddy could see him though). Daddy wasn't too long on patience and neither am I so I guess we got this from Granddaddy.

Harmon Luthur and Lucinda had eight children born to them:

	Born	Died
Hattie Jane	2-11-1896	3-20-1936
Irene Estelle	2-08-1898	12-26-1936
Alda	11-23-1899	7-23-1988
Carrie Edna	10-25-1901	1-27-1989
Annie Elizabeth	11-13-1905	4-10-1955
Ida Mae	7-17-1907	10-17-1958
Harmon Bernie	3-31-1909	4-13-1984
Onnie Belle	2-24-1912

These children married and settled in Berrien County. In later years some of them would venture farther away.

I can remember going to Granddaddy's when he lived at a place called Whites. The house still stands as far as I know being located behind the present day home of John Darby. We would go for Sunday dinner and I would have a fit to come home as soon as I ate my dinner. The drinking water tasted awful there and I always thought I would thirst to death before I could get back home. This is the one thing I remember about Granddaddy's home.

Granddaddy never remarried. Ida Mae, who never married, always lived with Granddaddy. Ida Mae had some type of childhood illness that affected her health. At one time they lived with us. Granddaddy didn't like milk and Mama would make biscuits with water for a time after they moved in and eventually began making them with milk and Granddaddy said they got better and better and he never knew she was using milk.

I never knew Grandma Floyd because she died over three years before I was born. All I have ever known of her was seeing her and Granddaddy's picture together. She died March 10, 1937 from a cerebral hemorrhage causing her to have a stroke. Granddaddy died Sept. 5, 1955. His mind was bad before he died. Mama said she thought he had cancer. Granddaddy was living with us when he died. Both our grandparents are buried at Long Bridge Primitive Baptist Church Cemetery.

Now I'll try to tell what I know of each child of the family. I'll only go to the grandchildren because so many of the great and great-great grandchildren I do not know. I hope to complete this later on.

Hattie Jane married Leigh Richmond Gaskins on Nov. 11, 1911. Eight children were born to this couple:

Gola, John, Ernest, Sam, and Katie Ruth are deceased. Waldo lives in Jasper, Fl. Mona lives in Tampa, Fl. Madeleine lives in Callahan, Fl. Elmer lives outside Valdosta, Ga. in Lowndes County.

Aunt Alda married Ben Giddens. Three sons were born to this couple:

	Born	Died
James Virgil	8-14-1920
Carson Heywood	12-04-1922
Willard Edward	2-24-1925

Alda and Ben were divorced and she married a Mr. Perry the 2nd time. They divorced and she married Harold Cunningham. They resided in Glen St. Marys and Taylor, Fl. Harold died several years ago and Alda died July 23, 1988. Both are buried in Taylor Cemetery.

J. V. lives in Washington State. Heywood and Willard live in Glen St. Marys, Fl.

Aunt Edna married Leonard J. Bostic. They farmed and lived in and around Ray City, Ga. They lived in south Berrien County when they were farming. After quitting the farm they bought a house and lived in Ray City. Eight children were born to this couple:

	Born	Died
Selmon	10-22-1919
Carrie Retha	6-18-1921
L. J.	9-12-1923
Henry Lincoln	4-23-1925

John Earl	1-10-1931
Nina Pearl	4-26-1934	12-15-1974
Remer Askew	1-22-1937

Leonard died in 1963. Nina Pearl died as a result of a car accident. Aunt Edna resided in Ray City until her health declined and she broke up housekeeping and moved to Midland, Tx. to live with her daughter Mary Ellen Keown. Eventually she went to a nursing home where she passed away Jan. 27, 1989. She is buried along with Leonard in New Ramah Primitive Baptist Church Cemetery in Ray City, Ga.

Selmon lives at Rt. 1, Adel, Ga. Carrie, L. J., and Lincoln live in the Tampa, Fl. are I believe. Mary Ellen lives in Midland, Tx. John Earl lives in Lowndes County, Ga. Remer lives in Macon, Ga. Nina Pearl is buried at New Ramah.

Aunt Annie married William Thomas (Tommy) Griner. They resided in Nashville, Ga. One daughter, Onnie Marie, was born to them on Aug. 25, 1935. Tommy died in 1946. Aunt Annie married Mitch Watson probably in the early 50's. The marriage was short-lived. Marie married a Pafford and divorced him. She then married John H. Brock. Brock was in the Navy and stationed in Alexandria, La. Aunt Annie followed Marie there. A few short weeks later she was found dying in the all night diner where she worked. In the early morning hours of April 10, 1955, Easter Sunday, she was discovered with three severe head wounds. About $124.00 was missing from the cash register. The assailant was never found. The family felt the son-in-law had killed her. Last year I wrote the Police Dept. in Alexandria and they wrote me back that they no longer kept records that far back. I have also called Gainesville, Ga., the last known place Marie lived but had no success in locating her. Uncle Tommy's daughter, Viola Davis, told me the last they heard from her she was headed to California with a man who fathered her baby while Johnny was in the chain gang. Marie had been running around while Johnny was in the gang and he was being released and Marie was afraid and looking for some place to hide. She hasn't been heard from since the late 60's.

Annie and Tommy are buried at Long Bridge Cemetery. If anyone knows of Marie's whereabouts please let me know.

My Daddy, Bernie, married Mary Frances Sikes of Bannockburn, Ga. on Dec. 25, 1938. They eloped with J. W. Beasley and Pauline Lewis. The four went to Moultrie, Colquitt Co., Ga. and married on Christmas Day. Daddy finished the crop with Grandaddy Floyd and he and Mama moved to her father, W. K. Sikes' farm at Bannockburn where he began farming for him. Being I know this story so well I will elaborate on it. Two daughters were born to this couple:

	Born	Died
Marian Sikes	5-27-1940
Doris Linda Rebecca	7-25-1949

Mama and Daddy lived in a wood frame house down the road from DaddySikes'. In the summer of 1954 we moved into the house with my grandparents so Mama could look after her mother. My grandmother died in 1955. In 1966 Mama and Daddy built a brick home a few hundred yards SW of the old homeplace. Mama, Daddy, Doris, and DaddySikes moved into the new house. Charles and I had been married eight years and lived in Mama and Daddy's first house in Bannockburn. We moved into DaddySikes old home and in 1969 built the home we now occupy. DaddySikes died in March of 1969 and Mama got the old homeplace. Daddy still farmed and did so until his health would no longer permit. Daddy suffered from cancer for over 20 years. He succumbed from pneumonia complicated from the cancer on Friday the 13th in April 1984. Mama and Daddy's brick home was burned to the ground on April 30, 1983. They built a two story cedar-sided home back on the same homesite.

Daddy was a member of the Riverside Missionary Baptist Church in the NE section of Berrien County. He is buried in the church cemetery.

I married Charles Franklin Duggan on June 7, 1958 at Daddy-Sikes home in Bannockburn. Charles was born at Race Pond, Ga. in Charlton County on May 7, 1936. We have three children:

In Nov. of 1987 he adopted her son Matthew Allen Wilkerson. Scott is a deputy with the Berrien County Sheriffs Dept. Angie is a school-teacher.

Cindy married Carson Hershell Boyd on Feb. 14, 1987. They were divorced in Jan. of 1989. They had no children. Cindy works at the local hospital.

All three of our children live close by us here in Bannockburn.

Doris married Harry Rainey in Atlanta, Ga. on May 31, 1975. They had one son, Jeremy David Rainey born Sept. 27, 1977. Doris and Harry were divorced July 19, 1986.

Doris married Terry Mann of Monroe, Ga. on April 30, 1989. The marriage took place in Milledgeville, Ga. at the home of a college roommate. Doris is special education coordinator for the counties of Berrien and Cook with an office in Adel, Ga.

Mama, her children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren all live in the place called Bannockburn.

Aunt Onnie Belle married Ollie Leon Lewis on Aug. 16, 1935. Three children were born to this couple:

Born

Died

James Marion	6-4-1936
--------------	----------

	Born	Died
Linda Diane	7-09-1941	8-30-1941
William Jordan (Jerry)	9-16-1943

Aunt Onnie Belle and Uncle Ollie lived near Averys Millpond, which in later years became known as Lake Lewis. Eventually they moved to Nashville into the house with Uncle Ollie's mother. For as long as I can remember Uncle Ollie was an invalid and Aunt Onnie Belle fed, bathed, and held his cigarette for him to smoke and did everything for him until he passed away on April 1, 1961. At this writing Aunt Onnie Belle is the only living child of Harmon Luthur and Lucinda Boykin Floyd. She still lives in Nashville with Jerry who has never married and they take care of one another. Jimmy married Willene Luke and they live outside Richmond, Va. Aunt Onnie Belle has grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Granddaddy Floyd's baby sister, Blanche Elizabeth was born Sept. 5, 1881. She married Walter A. Cribbs, brother of Quincy. They lived in Fair Bluff, N. C. Three children were born to this couple: Worth, Catherine, and Ernest. Worth was struck and killed by a hit and run driver in 1935. He was 45 years of age. The accident occurred in front of the family home. He worked for the railroad. Catherine married an Ivey and is deceased as a result of cancer. Ernest Cribbs and his wife Marjorie reside in Fair Bluff at this writing. I have had correspondence with him. Walter and Blanche Floyd Cribbs are buried in Powell Cemetery in Fair Bluff, S. C. I have no death dates on this couple.

When Charles and I visited Nichols and the old Floyd Plantation in November of 1989 the homeplace showed no signs of the home of Thomas Coatsworth (Cotesworth) and Catherine Floyd. It has long been torn down. Some of the farm barns stand on the east side of the plantation next to the swamp. A lone mobile home stands on the site where Aunt Hattie lived. The barns are on Sam's part of the land. You drive onto the property down a tree-lined lane for several hundred yards and turn right to a grassy knoll and there lies the Floyd A Cemetery. The surrounding lands belong to Ester Soles Floyd, widow of Jessie.

I have done much research and letter writing to obtain information for our generation of Floyds. I did it for me, my children, my grandchildren, and for all of you. I deeply regret I have wasted all these years and let most of the older Floyds pass away and miss out on the wealth of information they had and the stories they could have related to us.

This is a very incomplete short history but I do plan to continue and want to get all members down to the very youngest one with the help and cooperation of each and everyone.

I sincerely hope you all enjoy this little history. It was done out of love for my Floyd family and in memory of my Daddy, Harmon Bernie Floyd.
